++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

A rather cloudy but mild day.

Today:

A cloudy and mild day. The risk of rain along the north coast of Cornwall and Devon through the morning, then largely dry. A gentle breeze inland, and moderate along coasts. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:

Staying mild through the evening and overnight with the breeze also continuing. Becoming increasingly murky as cloud lowers and the risk of fog also developing in any cloud breaks. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tuesday:

Mist and fog slowly clearing but a cloudy day follows. Dry for many though patchy light rain is possible over higher ground. Feeling very mild with a gentle breeze. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:

Mild and largely cloudy throughout the week. Generally dry but the cloud thick enough to produce some patchy drizzle. Continued risk of morning fog developing under any cloud breaks.
